Summary of Risk Factors

An investment in Starwood Real Estate Income Trust, Inc. involves a high degree of risk. These securities are not liquid instruments. You should purchase these securities only if you can afford the complete loss of your investment. You should carefully read the information set forth in the “Risk Factors” section of the prospectus before buying our shares. Risks include, but are not limited to:

- We have incurred GAAP net losses attributable to stockholders and an accumulated deficit in the past and may incur GAAP net losses attributable to stockholders and continue to have an accumulated deficit in the future.
- This is a “blind pool” offering. You will not have the opportunity to evaluate our future investments before we make them.
- Since there is no public trading market for shares of our common stock, repurchase of shares by us will likely be the only way to dispose of your shares. Our share repurchase plan provides stockholders with the opportunity to request that we repurchase their shares on a monthly basis, but we are not obligated to repurchase any shares and may choose to repurchase only some, or even none, of the shares that have been requested to be repurchased in any particular month in our discretion. In addition, repurchases are subject to available liquidity and other significant restrictions. Further, our board of directors may modify or suspend our share repurchase plan if it deems such action to be in our best interest and the best interest of our stockholders. As a result, our shares should be considered as having only limited liquidity and at times may be illiquid.
- We cannot guarantee that we will make distributions, and if we do we may fund such distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, the sale of assets, borrowings, return of capital or offering proceeds, and we have no limits on the amounts we may pay from such sources.
- The purchase and repurchase price for shares of our common stock are generally based on our prior month’s NAV (subject to material changes as described in the prospectus) and are not based on any public trading market. While there are independent annual appraisals of our properties, the appraisal of properties is inherently subjective, and our NAV may not accurately reflect the actual price at which our properties could be liquidated on any given day.

- We have no employees and are dependent on Starwood REIT Advisors, L.L.C. (the “Advisor”) to conduct our operations. The Advisor will face conflicts of interest as a result of, among other things, the allocation of investment opportunities among us and Other Starwood Accounts (as defined in the prospectus), the allocation of time of its investment professionals and the substantial fees that we will pay to the Advisor.
- This is a “best efforts” offering. If we are not able to raise a substantial amount of capital, our ability to achieve our investment objectives could be adversely affected.
- There are limits on the ownership and transferability of our shares.
- If we fail to qualify as a REIT and no relief provisions apply, our NAV and cash available for distribution to our stockholders could materially decrease.
- The acquisition of properties may be financed in substantial part by debt. The use of leverage involves a high degree of financial risk and will increase the exposure of the investments to adverse economic factors.
- Investing in commercial real estate assets involves certain risks, including, but not limited to: changes in values caused by global, national, regional or local economic performance, the performance of the real estate sector, unemployment, stock market volatility and other impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, demographic or capital market conditions; increases in interest rates and lack of availability of financing; vacancies, fluctuations in the average occupancy and room rates for hospitality properties; and bankruptcies, financial difficulties or lease defaults by our tenants.
- A change in U.S. tax laws could adversely impact benefits of investing in our shares.

- Starwood Capital Group is a leading global private real estate investment firm with approximately $115 billion of assets under management
- Led by a seasoned, stable management team who has successfully navigated all stages of the real estate investment cycle

Firm Highlights

Chairman & CEO Barry Sternlicht founded Starwood Capital Group in 1991 by purchasing 7,500 multifamily units. Since then, Starwood has created:

- One of the world's largest public hotel companies — Starwood Hotels & Resorts
 - Also created the W Hotels and built the St. Regis from a single hotel to a global brand

- Two of the biggest commercial mortgage finance companies in the United States — Starwood Property Trust and iStar Financial

- One of the largest collections of multifamily apartments in the United States and an in-house multifamily property management company — Highmark Residential

- One of the largest publicly traded owners and operators of single-family rental homes in the United States — Starwood Waypoint Homes (since merged with Invitation Homes)

- One of the largest homebuilders in the United States — TRI Pointe Homes

- An innovative hotel management company, Starwood Hotels, that is growing its 1 Hotels, Baccarat Hotels and Treehouse Hotels brands

* Starwood Capital Group and its investment vehicles no longer have an investment in Starwood Hotels & Resorts, iStar Financial, or TRI Pointe Homes. Information about Starwood Capital and its affiliates is based on a number of factors including assets under management, market capitalization, number of properties and square feet owned.

Diverse Real Estate Experience

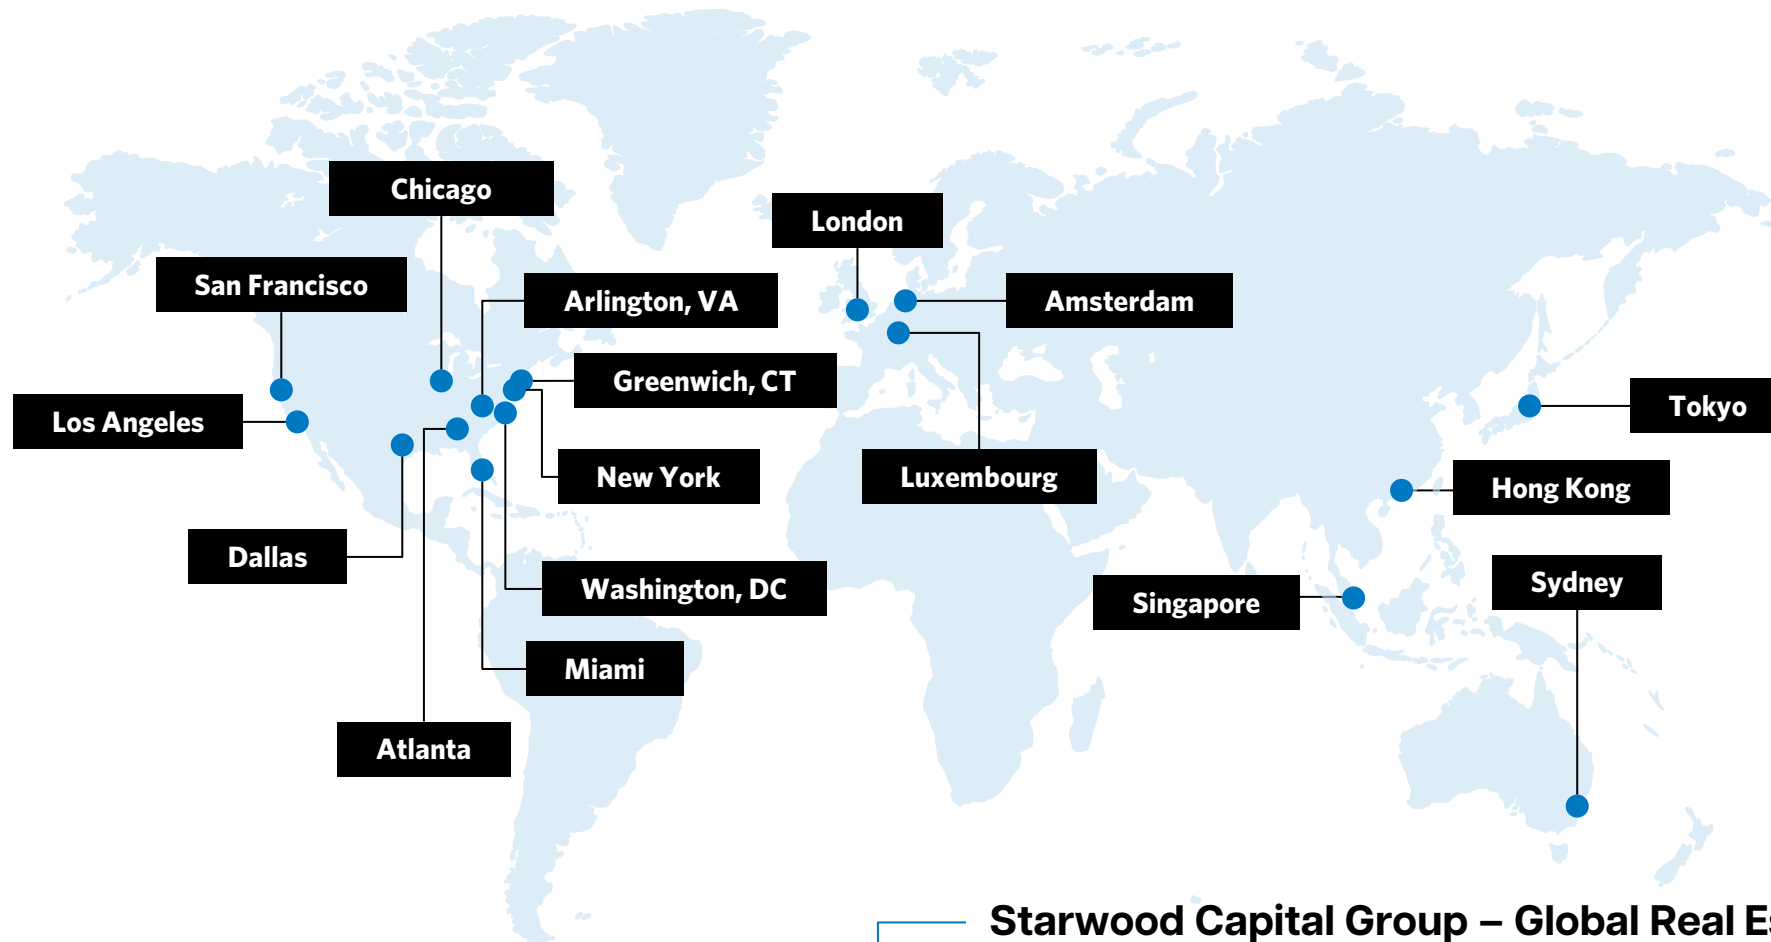

Starwood Capital Group has invested in approximately $250 billion of assets including properties within every major real estate asset class since inception

1. Residential includes Multifamily, Affordable Housing, Condos, Senior Housing, Single-Family Rental and Student Housing.
2. Office includes Life Sciences.

Overview

SREIT seeks to provide investors with a unique combination of portfolio benefits, including¹:

- Stable, tax-efficient income
- Capital appreciation over time
- Potential hedge against inflation
- Limited correlation to the equity and fixed income markets²

1. There can be no assurance we will meet our investment objectives. The payment of distributions is not guaranteed, and distributions may come from the sale of assets, offering proceeds or borrowings.
2. While our shares are less volatile, they have limited liquidity compared to publicly-traded REITs. The appraisal of properties is subjective and any volatility smoothing biases in the appraisal process may lower the volatility of our NAV and cause our NAV to not accurately reflect the actual value of such properties.
3. There are limitations on the number of repurchases we may make in a given month or quarter, and we may choose to repurchase only some, or even none, of shares submitted for repurchase. See "Share Repurchase Plan" in the Offering Details.

Investment Strategy

Stable Cash Flow

- Distribute cash flow for income
 - No development, minimal vacancy, minimal tenant rollover

High Quality, Well-Located Real Estate

- Emphasis on favorable supply / demand dynamics
 - Ability to appreciate in value over time

Market Selection

- Ability to invest across global opportunities, where we find attractive risk-adjusted returns for investors
 - Primary focus on the U.S. and Europe

Property Types

- Dynamically shift asset class focus in response to evolving markets
- Primarily allocated to the rental housing and industrial sectors today

There can be no assurance we will meet our investment objectives. The payment of distributions is not guaranteed, and distributions may come from the sale of assets, offering proceeds or borrowings.

We believe SREIT's portfolio is well-positioned in three key areas that drive performance over the long-term:

Data as of March 31, 2025

1. Total asset value is measured as the gross asset value of real estate assets (based on fair value) plus the total fair value of real estate-related securities as well as the addition of any other assets (including cash or any other cash equivalents, but excluding cash associated with subscriptions received in advance).
2. NAV is calculated in accordance with the valuation guidelines approved by our board of directors. NAV is not a measure used under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP"), and the valuations of and certain adjustments made to our assets and liabilities used in the determination of NAV will differ from GAAP. You should not consider NAV to be equivalent to stockholders' equity or any other GAAP measure. Please refer to our annual and quarterly reports filed with the SEC, which are available at www.starwoodnav.reit, for a reconciliation of NAV to GAAP measures. For information on how we calculate NAV, see the "Net Asset Value Calculation and Valuation Guidelines" section of our prospectus.
3. Reflects real estate property investments only and does not include real estate debt investments. Occupancy is weighted by the total real estate asset value of all real estate properties, excluding hospitality. For our multifamily investments, occupancy represents the percentage of all leased units divided by the total unit count as of the date indicated. For our office and industrial investments, occupancy represents the percentage of all leased square footage divided by the total available square footage as of the date indicated.
4. Leverage is measured on gross real estate assets (calculated using the greater of fair market value and cost of gross real estate assets, including equity in our real estate debt investments), inclusive of property-level and entity-level debt net of cash, but excluding indebtedness on our real estate debt investments. The leverage ratio would be higher if indebtedness on our real estate debt investments was taken into account. Leverage ratio is not a GAAP measure, and you should not consider this to be equivalent to debt-to-equity ratio or any other GAAP measure.

SREIT Rental Housing Portfolio

SREIT's largest asset class: 71% invested in rental housing

- Market-rate multifamily apartments
(66% of rental housing portfolio)
- Affordable housing
(32% of rental housing portfolio)
- Single-family rentals
(2% of rental housing portfolio)

Performance driven by:

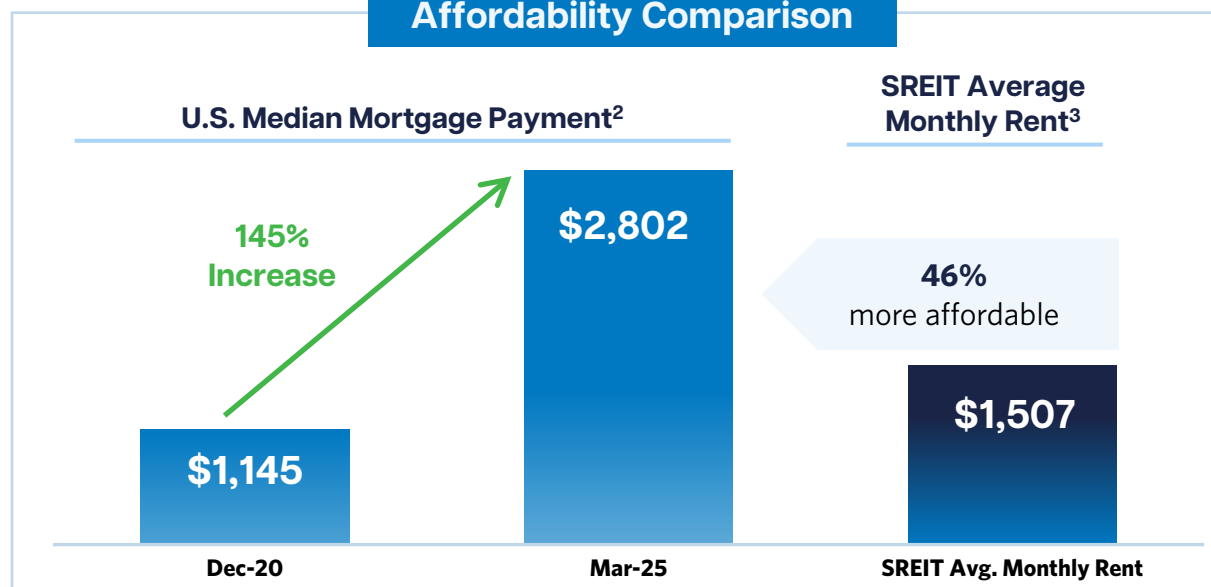

- 4-5 million unit housing shortfall
- SREIT's investment in Class A, garden style apartment in suburban locations
- Relative affordability compared to homeownership
- SREIT's rent-to-income ratio is a healthy 22%¹

Driving Demand: Cost of Living

The average rent in SREIT's rental housing portfolio is 46% more affordable than the median U.S. mortgage payment today

Affordability Comparison

Data as of March 31, 2025 unless otherwise noted and is provided by Starwood Capital Group.

SREIT Industrial Portfolio Releasing Spreads¹ (Rent Increases on Executed Deals)

Data as of March 31, 2025 unless otherwise stated and is provided by Starwood Capital Group.

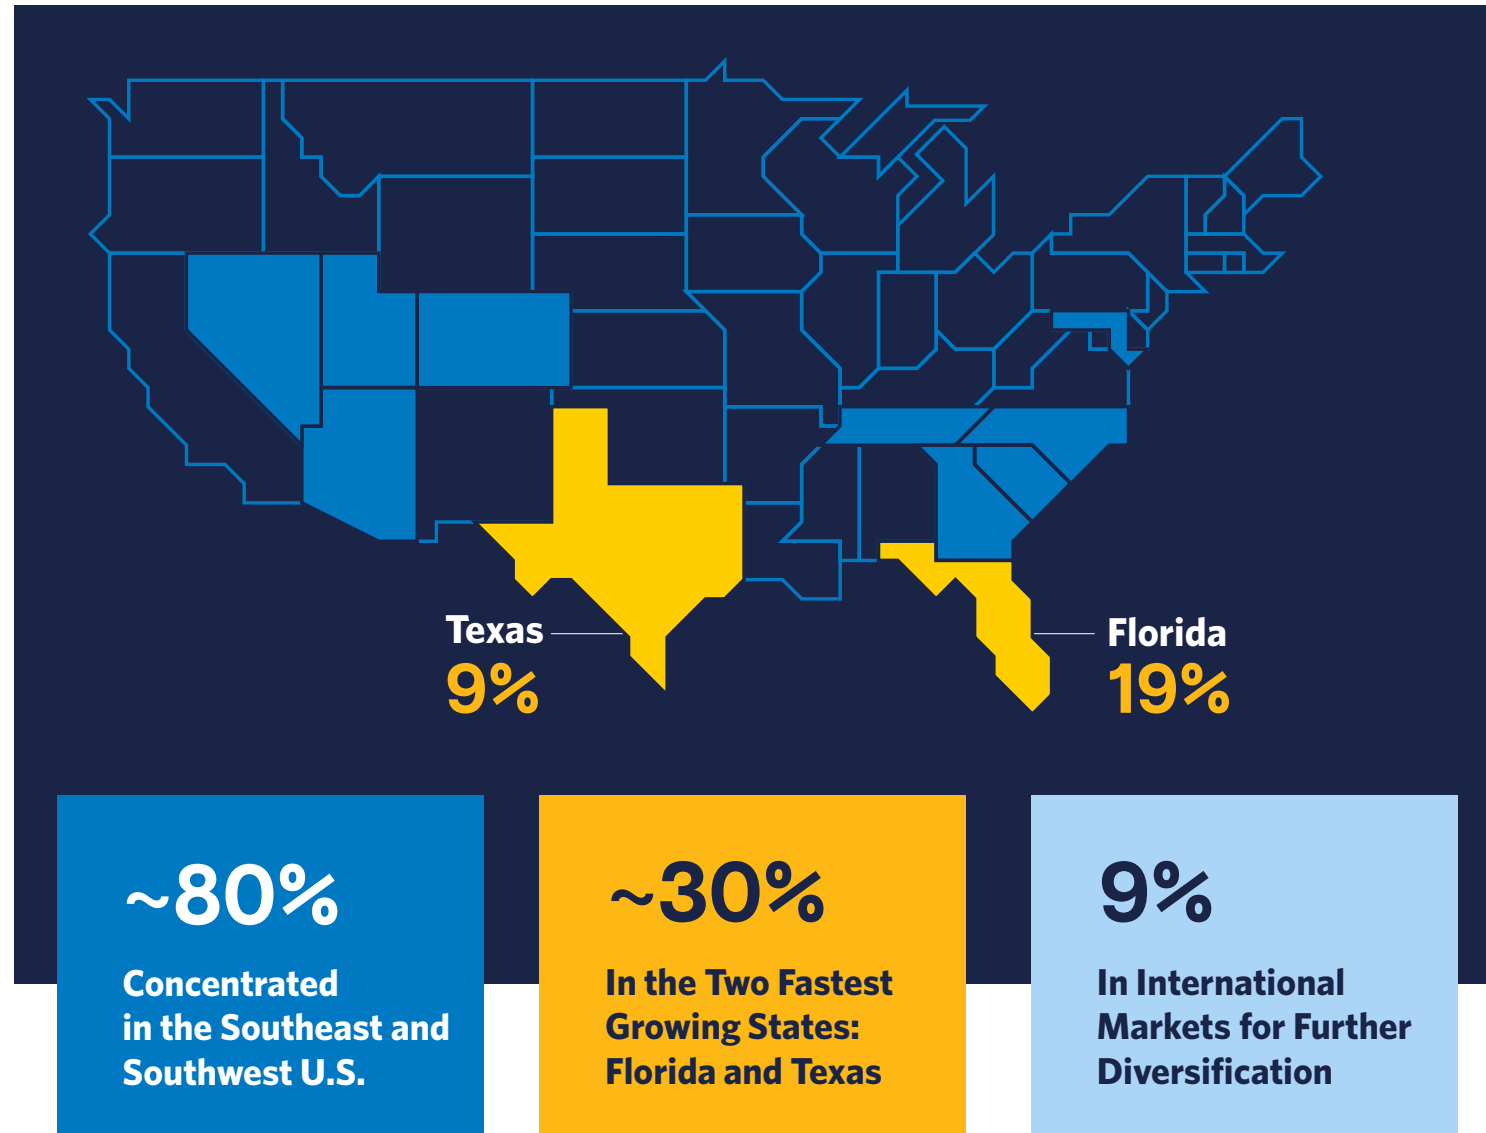

1. Releasing spread refers to the difference between the rental rate on a new lease and the rental rate on the expiring lease for the same property or unit.

2. Market Section

Focused in High-Growth Sunbelt Markets

- Higher levels of job, income, and population growth
- Low-to-no income taxes
- Better relative affordability when compared to the major gateway markets

Data as of March 31, 2025. Weighting is measured as the asset value of real estate properties and unconsolidated investments for each market against the total asset value of all real estate properties and unconsolidated investments.

3. Debt Structuring

SREIT has limited near term debt maturities and a low cost of debt. This is a valuable asset, enabling SREIT to deliver stable, monthly distributions of operating cash flow.

- Returns shown reflect the percent change in the NAV per share from the beginning of the applicable period, plus the amount of any distribution per share declared in the period. All returns shown assume reinvestment of distributions pursuant to SREIT's distribution reinvestment plan, are derived from unaudited financial information and are net of all SREIT expenses, including general and administrative expenses, transaction related expenses, management fees, performance participation allocation, and share class specific fees, but exclude the impact of early repurchase deductions on the repurchase of shares that have been outstanding for less than one year. Past performance is historical and not a guarantee of future results. Class D, S and T shares listed as (With Sales Load) reflect the returns after the maximum upfront selling commission and dealer manager fees. Class D, S and T shares listed as (No Sales Load) exclude upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. Class I shares have no upfront selling commissions or dealer manager fees. The returns have been prepared using unaudited data and valuations of the underlying investments in SREIT's portfolio, which are estimates of fair value and form the basis for SREIT's NAV. Valuations based upon unaudited reports from the underlying investments may be subject to later adjustments, may not correspond to realized value and may not accurately reflect the price at which assets could be liquidated.
- Inception to date ("ITD") returns are annualized and consistent with the IPA Practice Guideline 2018, as reported in the newly published IPA/Stanger Monitor (initial issuance in Q1'19). The inception dates for the Class I, S, D and T shares are December 21, 2018.
- Reflects the current month's distribution annualized and divided by the prior month's net asset value, which is inclusive of all fees and expenses. Our inception to date cash flows from operating activities funded 100% of our distributions. Distributions are not guaranteed and may be sourced from non-income items.

Income is Tax-Efficient

- A key tax advantage of REITs is the Return of Capital tax shelter.
- For the last five years, SREIT's distributions have been considered 100% Return of Capital ("ROC").
- This means the maximum effective federal tax rate on distributions is 0% and the tax equivalent yield is approximately 10% for investors in the top tax bracket.

All figures are as of March 31, 2025. This sales and advertising literature does not constitute tax advice. Because each investor's tax position is different, you should consult with your tax advisor. The illustrative example assumes $100,000 investment and a maximum ordinary tax bracket of 37% and includes the 3.8% Medicare surtax that is applied to the net investment income above certain thresholds. It does not include state taxes. Investors could be subject to state income tax in their state of residence which would lower the after-tax yield received by the investor. The illustrative example does not reflect the impact of increasing net operating income ("NOI"); an increasing NOI from higher rents would reduce the amount of ROC. Past performance is not indicative of future results. See "Important Disclosure Information-Tax Information."

Improving Real Estate Dynamics

1 Valuations

- Real estate markets may be at or near bottom

2 Interest Rates

- Lower interest rates are positive for real estate valuations over the long term

3 Capital Markets

- Improving with lenders reentering the market

Supply

- 4 • Supply is peaking but new starts slowing rapidly
 - Multifamily: New construction starts are down 57% from peak in April 2022 and are expected to continue to decline further¹
 - Industrial: New construction starts have also declined materially, dropping 76% since a high in 3Q2022²

Opportunities to Deploy Capital

Multifamily and Industrial

Continue to be investment opportunities in these two core asset classes.

Debt or Preferred Equity

Opportunities resulting from owners with loans coming due or broken capital structures.

Data Centers

SREIT will look to deploy capital into the data center space, which is an area where Starwood Capital Group has built a significant presence over the past five years.

Key Takeaways

SREIT is well-positioned with strong underlying fundamentals

- SREIT owns good quality assets, in top performing sectors (overweight rental housing and industrial), across strong markets in the Southeast and Southwest U.S. — with some modest international exposure
- SREIT's balance sheet is also a differentiator, with 86% of its debt fixed or hedged, a 3.9% weighted average interest rate, and only 7% of its loans maturing in 2025

Tax-Efficient Income

- 5.8% annualized distribution rate for the Class I Share
- Approximately 9.8% on a tax equivalent basis¹

May be an attractive re-entry point for real estate

- Lower interest rates are positive for real estate valuations over the long-term
- Market may be at or nearing bottom
- Opportunities to deploy capital into market dislocation

Why Invest in Private Real Estate?

Low Volatility Combined with Strong Returns

Over the past 20 years, Private Real Estate has delivered attractive returns with lower volatility compared to other traditional asset classes

Total Return and Volatility Comparison (2005–2024)

Note: We cannot guarantee that we will make distributions, and if we do we may fund such distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, the sale of assets, borrowing, return of capital or offering proceeds, and we have no limits on the amounts we may pay from such sources. There can be no assurance we will meet our investment objectives. Although our share price is subject to less volatility compared to public REITs, the value of the underlying real estate may fluctuate and may be worth less than was initially paid for it. Our shares also have limited liquidity when compared to publicly-traded REITs. The appraisal of properties is subjective and the NAV may not accurately reflect the actual value of such properties.

Potential Hedge Against Inflation

Real Estate Income Keeping Pace with Inflation:

2005-2024

- Real assets tend to outperform financial assets during periods of higher inflation
- Income generated by real estate may serve as an inflation hedge due to the ability to increase rents when inflation increases
- Inflation may also increase the cost of new supply, which will either limit new supply, or require rents to rise in order to earn an appropriate return on equity

Source: Green Street Advisors, Bureau of Labor Statistics. Data as of December 31, 2024. Real Estate Income is represented by net operating income (NOI) growth, which is the average NOI growth by year across the apartment, industrial, mall, office and strip retail sectors. Inflation is represented by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), which measures changes in the prices paid by urban consumers for a representative basket of goods and services. NOI may not be correlated to or continue to keep pace with inflation. Past performance does not guarantee future results.

- Terms summarized herein are for informational purposes and qualified in their entirety by the more detailed information set forth in Starwood Real Estate Income Trust's prospectus. You should read the prospectus carefully prior to making an investment.
- Offering price will generally be equal to the prior month's net asset value ("NAV") per share for each share class, plus applicable upfront selling commissions and dealer manager fees. We may offer shares at a price that we believe reflects the NAV per share of such stock more appropriately than the prior month's NAV per share, including by updating a previously disclosed offering price, in cases where we believe there has been a material change (positive or negative) to our NAV per share since the end of the prior month.
- There is no assurance we will pay distributions in any particular amount, if at all. Any distributions we make will be at the discretion of our board of directors. We may fund any distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, the sale of assets, borrowings, return of capital or offering proceeds, and we have no limits on the amounts we may pay from such sources.
- The share repurchase plan is subject to other limitations and our board may modify or suspend the plan.

Tax Information

A portion of REIT distributions may be tax deferred given the ability to characterize ordinary income as Return of Capital (“ROC”). ROC distributions reduce the stockholder’s tax basis in the year the dividend is received and generally defer taxes on that portion until the stockholder’s stock is sold via redemption. Certain non-cash deductions, such as depreciation and amortization, lower the taxable income for REIT distributions. Investors should be aware that a REIT’s ROC percentage may vary significantly in a given year and, as a result, the impact of the tax law and any related advantages may vary significantly from year to year. SREIT’s return of capital was 92% in 2019, 100% in 2020, 100% in 2021, 100% in 2022, 100% in 2023 and 100% in 2024.

- Return of capital reduces the stockholder’s tax basis in the year the distribution is received and generally defers taxes on that portion until the capital asset is sold. Certain non-cash deductions, such as depreciation and amortization, lower the taxable income for REIT distributions.
- SREIT’s Return of Capital for 2024 was 100%, which means the maximum effective tax rate on SREIT’s 2024 distributions is 0%. This assumes the maximum ordinary tax bracket of 37%. Please note the effective tax rate is after the 20% reduction in rates introduced under the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017. The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 is not applicable to capital gain dividends or certain qualified dividend income. It is only available for qualified REITs and the board is authorized to revoke the REIT election. The tax benefit is set to expire in 2026. There may be adverse legislative or regulatory tax changes. Other investments may offer tax advantages. An accelerated depreciation schedule does not guarantee a profitable return on investment.
- SREIT cannot guarantee that we will make distributions, and if we do we may fund such distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, the sale of assets, borrowings, return of capital or offering proceeds, and we have no limits on the amounts we may pay from such sources. SREIT Annualized Distribution Rate reflects the Class I share distribution as of the date stated annualized and divided by the prior month’s net asset value, which is inclusive of all fees and expenses. Our inception to date cash flows from operating activities funded 100% of our distributions. Distributions are not guaranteed and may be sourced from non-income items.
- The illustrative example assumes $100,000 investment and a maximum ordinary tax bracket of 37% and includes the 3.8% Medicare surtax that is applied to the net investment income above certain thresholds. It does not include state taxes. Investors could be subject to state income tax in their state of residence which would lower the after-tax yield received by the investor. The illustrative example does not reflect the impact of increasing net operating income (“NOI”); an increasing NOI from higher rents would reduce the amount of ROC. Past performance is not indicative of future results.
- After-Tax Yield does not take into account other taxes that may be owed on an investment in SREIT when the investor redeems their shares. Upon redemption, the investor may be subject to higher capital gains taxes as a result of a depreciating cost basis due to the return of capital portion of distributions.

Index Definitions

An investment in SREIT is not a direct investment in real estate and has material differences from a direct investment in real estate, including those related to fees and expenses, liquidity and tax treatment. SREIT's share price is subject to less volatility because its per share NAV is based on the value of real estate assets it owns and is not subject to market pricing forces as are the prices of public REITs, investment-grade bonds, equities or Treasury notes. Although SREIT's share price is subject to less volatility, SREIT shares are significantly less liquid than these asset classes and are not immune to fluctuations. Further, the appraisal of properties is subjective and any volatility smoothing biases in the appraisal process may lower the volatility of our NAV and cause our NAV to not accurately reflect the actual value of such properties. Private real estate is not traded on an exchange and will have less liquidity and price transparency. The value of private real estate may fluctuate and may be worth less than was initially paid for it. The volatility and risk profile of the indices presented is likely to be materially different from that of SREIT including those related to fees and expenses, liquidity, safety, and tax features. In addition, the indices employ different investment guidelines and criteria than SREIT; as a result, the holdings in SREIT may differ significantly from the holdings of the securities that comprise the indices. The indices are not subject to fees or expenses, are meant to illustrate general market performance and it may not be possible to invest in the indices. The performance of the indices has not been selected to represent an appropriate benchmark to compare to SREIT's performance but rather is disclosed to allow for comparison of SREIT's performance to that of well-known and widely recognized indices. A summary of the investment guidelines for the indices presented are available upon request. In the case of equity indices, performance of the indices reflects the reinvestment of dividends.

SREIT does not trade on a national securities exchange, and therefore, is generally illiquid. Your ability to redeem shares in SREIT through SREIT's share repurchase plan may be limited and fees associated with the sale of these products can be higher than other asset classes. In some cases, periodic distributions may be subsidized by borrowed funds and include a return of investor principal. This is in contrast to the distributions investors receive from large corporate stocks that trade on national exchanges, which are typically derived solely from earnings. Investors typically seek income from distributions over a period of years. Upon liquidation, return of capital may be more or less than the original investment depending on the value of assets.

- US Treasuries are fixed income securities with varying maturities issued by the United States Department of the Treasury and backed by the United States government.
- Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index is a broad-based flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, MBS (agency fixed rate pass-throughs), ABS and CMBS (agency and non-agency). Ticker LBUSTRUU.
- Bloomberg U.S. Municipal Index covers the USD-denominated long-term tax exempt bond market. The index has four main sectors: state and local general obligation bonds, revenue bonds, insured bonds and prerefunded bonds. Ticker LMBITR.
- S&P 500 Index gauges large-cap US equities and covers over USD 11.2 trillion indexed or benchmarked to the index, with indexed assets comprising approximately USD 4.6 trillion of this total. The index includes 500 leading companies and covers approximately 80% of available market capitalization.

An investment in private real estate (i) differs from Treasury notes because Treasury notes are guaranteed as to the timely payment of principal and interest and (ii) differs from the NFI-ODCE in that such index represents various private real estate funds with differing terms and strategies.

- An investment in Treasury notes is generally considered to be a less risky investment than private real estate.
- The NFI-ODCE is a capitalization-weighted, gross of fees, time-weighted return index with an inception date of December 31, 1977. Published reports may also contain equal weighted and net of fees information. Open-end funds are generally defined as infinite-life vehicles consisting of multiple investors who have the ability to enter or exit the fund on a periodic basis, subject to contribution and/or redemption requests, thereby providing a degree of potential investment liquidity. The term diversified core equity typically reflects lower risk investment strategies utilizing low leverage and is generally represented by equity ownership positions in stable U.S. operating properties diversified across regions and property types. While funds used in the NFI-ODCE have characteristics that differ from SREIT (including differing management fees and leverage), SREIT's management feels that the NFI-ODCE is an appropriate and accepted index for the purpose of evaluating the total returns of direct real estate funds. Comparisons shown are for illustrative purposes only and do not represent specific investments. Investors cannot invest in this index. SREIT has the ability to utilize higher leverage than is allowed for the funds in the NFI-ODC.
